

Corporate Profile

Restoration Robotics, Inc., (San Jose, CA) is a medical device company developing and commercializing the ARTAS® Robotic Hair Transplant System. We believe the ARTA System is the first and only physician-assisted system to harvest follicular units directly from the scalp and create recipient implant sites using proprietary algorithms. The company has unique expertise in machine vision, image guidance, visual servoing and robotics, as well as developing intuitive interfaces to manage these technologies. Restoration Robotics is located in the heart of the high-technology center of Silicon Valley.
